They were seeking a replacement solution to their previous library management system which was becoming costly to maintain, had a poor user interface and only supported MARC records which were found to be too restrictive for their needs.

They also wanted a solution they could integrate with the CII website.

SOLUTION

Hannah Nilsumran, Knowledge Services Team Leader for the CII took charge to find a new solution to their current system supplied at the time by SirsiDynix.

Hannah says "the current system was too big, too technical and we really wanted a fully supported system, with a friendly user interface. It was at this point we found Soutron LMS".

With their collection of monographs, documents, articles and journals exceeding 45,000 it was vital that they had a manageable solution in place for the future.

RESULTS

"Soutron provided us with a user friendly, cloud-based solution that was not restricted to MARC. We love the number of filters we can apply, all fully editable to allow users to narrow down their search results too.
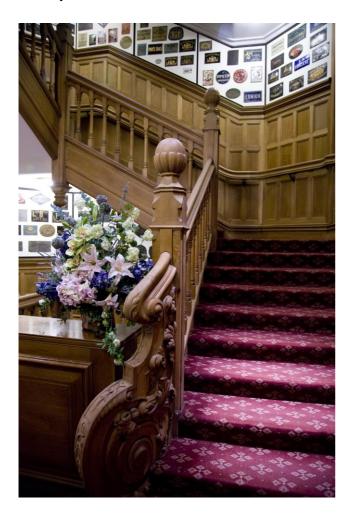

The support Soutron provided was second to none, especially during the implementation and migration from our older system."
