300 Year Old Law Firm Use Cloud Based, Fully Maintained Legal Library Automation Software

SOUTRON LIBRARY MANAGEMENT SOFTWARE SUPPORTING THE LAWYERS AT WILSONS SOLICITORS

Wilsons Solicitors offer a range of legal services for individuals, businesses and charities. They are almost 300 years old with traditional values that are core to their strength.

They recently opened an office in London and in September 2012 moved to new bespoke head office in Salisbury, at the same time updating their IT systems and practices firm wide.

He started to explore what was possible with Soutron LMS and what features it offered a law firm like their own.

They wanted to make a fresh start and to enter all content from new, rather than run any imports or conversions from their previous system.

Andrew says "When we saw the demonstration of the software we could see just how easy it was to populate, it was affordable and provided a fully maintained solution for our needs. All deciding factors in selecting Soutron for our library management solution."

CHALLENGE

When Andrew Phenix, Information Services Manager arrived in 2008 the firm was using a library software system which hadn't been updated in several years.

It quickly became apparent that this software was not ideally suited for a small legal library like their own. It was something they increasingly struggled with, was costly to run and offered no loose-leaf or journals cataloguing features.

SOLUTION

After seeking a new library management system in 2013, Andrew started a conversation with Soutron.

RESULTS

Today Wilsons Solicitors continue to use Soutron for their library management system.

Andrew says "Using Soutron for our library management has made a huge improvement to our department. The self checkout tool for our lawyers has worked wonders, no more manual checking and it is just so easy to keep track of our 800 books and journals.

"Our lawyers also like the fact they can see book cover images when they select a title as it helps to confirm which edition they are looking at." A service provided via the Soutron catalogue and Google.

With a new Wilsons branded Soutron portal going live for the library, Andrew is keen to explore how else Soutron can help.

He concludes by saying "We use Soutron LMS every day, I know we are only just beginning to see the true capabilities of this software and what this can do for us".

"We could see just how easy it was to populate, it was affordable and provided a fully maintained solution for our needs."
